ITALY OUTLINES NEW PLAN FOR AUSTRIA

It was officially confirmed that Austrian Legionnaires from Bavaria attempted to invade Austria. An unofficial death list placed the number killed since the beginning of the fighting Thursday at upward of 400, with thousands wounded.

These wounded include many federal soldiers whom the Nazis deliberately shot in the legs. The Nazis still hoped that the army would go over to them.

An ominous feature of the situation is the fact that the highest Nazi leaders themselves no longer seem to be in control of their troops in the provinces. An Associated Press correspondent talked to two of the highest ranking Nazis on Austrian soil this morning and found that they were considerably in the dark as to the military actions of their supporters in Carinthia, Styria and Salzburg provinces.

"We hope," one leader said, "that Chancellor Hitler's appointment of von Papen as minister to Vienna will contribute to the cessation of hostilities."

"Hitler undoubtedly is sincere," he declared in connection with restoring peace here. The difficulty naturally is to reach the ears of the fighters in time.

The Nazis in the provinces are supremely skeptical of all radio announcements or newspaper communications from the Vienna Government. If enough of them hear the von Papen news, over the German radio, there is a chance of suspending military action in time. But time presses.

The news from Styria confirmed this leader's remarks in connection with the skepticism of the provincial Nazis. Associated press correspondents who questioned the inhabitants in Leoben, where the recent fighting was most fierce, found great skepticism.

Leoben and other Styrian towns heard the news of von Papen's appointment with skepticism. The alarm came to the chancellery at 3:30 p. m. (3:00 a. m. E. S. P. T.). Within 20 minutes parties of Sturmabteilung, Dollfuss and Schuschnigg, very reliable Catholic troops, had moved up to the government building, police, police over from yesterday's action and probably have no real significance.

On the other hand, the general impression was that the Nazis are quite dissatisfied by the failure of their putsch against Dollfuss and a sober observer would be vastly surprised if they should so soon try another coup.

It was still uncertain whether the new putsch was more than a bluff, but it certainly has frightened the authorities. Their expedient with an enemy, disguised in uniforms of friends, has proved too difficult to do with the Nazis today when they are enemies until, perhaps, two jobs.

CHANCELLERY GUARDED. Your correspondent was in the chancellery office as the alarm came. We were preparing to enter Dollfuss' former workroom where the chancellor met his death.

A high officer of the army had been dispatched to the chancellery where we were speaking, went into another room, conferred with another official and came out trembling like a leaf.

With bluntness he whispered: "My God, the Nazis are coming. The time has come. They are dressed in Heilmwehr uniforms." The gradations of the chancellery were alarmed. Guards, police and military took posts at the entrance and all entrances to the building were closed.

HEIMWEHR MOBILIZED. From a barracks a truckload of troops dashed through the streets of Vienna. The popular opinion was that the Nazis were rushing to take control of the city.

It is not yet known whether the Heimwehr will be in general or a mere scare. Dollfuss, Sturmbach and Heilmwehr were mobilized throughout the city. For a block around the chancellery all traffic was cut off.

Machine guns were set up in the main square. The Heimwehr, police and military took posts at the entrance and all entrances to the building were closed.

FIGHTING CONTINUES. Skirmishes continue, it was reported, in Upper Austria, the violent charge being made by the Nazis.

There for a march into Austria. Theodore Habicht, leader of Austrian Nazis in Germany was reported to have been made chancellor had the putsch been successful.

UNDER MARTIAL LAW. Vienna is still under martial law. Cafes are closed and the usually gay life of the city is no more.

The government said firm assurances were taken with the 144 Nazis who stormed the chancellery Wednesday and killed Dollfuss. They have been imprisoned in a military barracks.

The cabinet's first act was to provide for the financial future of Frau Dollfuss and her children. She is here for the funeral, to be held tomorrow, while the children are in Italy under the care of the Mussolini family.

VON PAPPEN NAMED. Wild excitement was created in Vienna when extra editions of newspapers announced Chancellor Hitler had named Vice Chancellor Franz von Papen ambassador to Vienna.

The papers flatter ignored government decrees banning headlines longer than seven inches in type and higher than one quarter inch. "Chancellor Hitler makes peace with Austria," was the headline of the semi-official Reichspost.

A Berlin dispatch said von Papen had accepted the post. An air of forbidding hangs about Vienna, although residents are mostly ignorant of what is going on in the provinces.

Reports that Yugoslav soldiers had fired into Austria received no confirmation. Rumors that Italian troops have crossed the border are denied.

An unofficial report says Mussolini will come here to attend the funeral of Dollfuss, who was a close friend and ally.

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER. (Continued from International News Service) Vienna, July 27—Panic swept the Austrian government offices today as reports reached the chancellery that a new Nazi "putsch" was under way. This time, it was reported, the Nazis were disguised as members of the Heilmwehr.

The alarm came to the chancellery at 3:30 p. m. (3:00 a. m. E. S. P. T.). Vienna, July 27—The body of Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss, whose life all the armed forces of the state failed to preserve—was borne through Ringstrasse to the city hall.

The municipal building is a structure which played a significant part in the chancellor's life. From it he ejected the socialist municipal government last February, and many who watched the procession recalled the warning of the Socialists at that time.

"Touch our city hall and you touch off an automatic civil war," the Socialists were warned. With troops as the coffin was taken from the government building.

The chancellor's body will lie in state at the city hall until the funeral, tentatively set for Saturday afternoon. In official quarters here, feeling was known of the reported intention of Premier Mussolini to attend the funeral, but it was pointed out that he would be welcome.

U. S. Must Prepare for Crisis, R. W. Child Warns

The following article on the assassination of Chancellor Dollfuss of Austria has been written by Richard Washburn Child, former Ambassador to Italy, who returned recently from a European tour which he made as an observer for the United States government. On this tour, Mr. Child discussed world affairs with Chancellor Dollfuss in Vienna.

By RICHARD WASHBURN CHILD. Nazi gunmen killed Dollfuss. Not revolution—filthy murder. Yet not revolution—they blasted down in a cowardly surprise and shot in the back apparently was allowed to bleed to death without doctor, without any assistance, without a priest.

To one who knew him a few weeks ago—boyish, sparkling, full of movement, intense patriotism, good natured banter, romping over the surface of his life in serious statesmanship—there came a child of the blood.

For now the picture is of this little former secretary of agricultural organizations writing on the floor of the very big Vienna hall where we had our conversations, and now talking his own lieutenants to wait for vengeance lest more blood should be brought to his beloved Austria and his beloved mankind.

This is being cool, this is being kind, this is dying as real men may like to die.

The humble apartment where he and his gentle modest wife lived in his day of power may become a place for pilgrims to go with the profoundest respect.

What of his enemies?

Mussolinigraphs of DUCE PLEDGES SUPPORT TO AUSTRIANS

The candid cameraman catches Mussolini as he's telling the world just what he thinks. This is right after a dramatic statement made at a big gathering of his Fascist followers.

"I'm telling you," says Il Duce, pointing his finger to add weight to the declaration. You can see that Italy's ruler really means business. He is just as firm regarding the situation in Austria.

In a moment of levity, the premier punctuates his statement with an upraised finger. The tension is out of his face in this picture, although Il Duce can become stern at any moment.

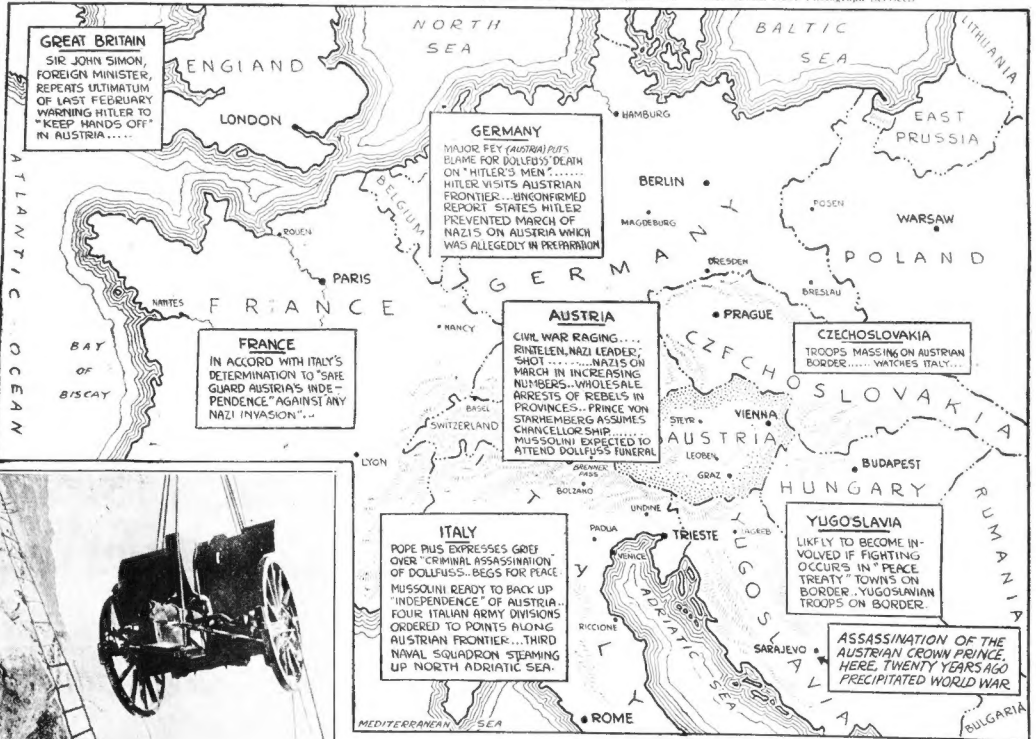

Serious again, Mussolini strikes an orchestra-leader pose to emphasize one of his best points. Arthur Fiedler please take notice. In all his actions, the dictator proves human.

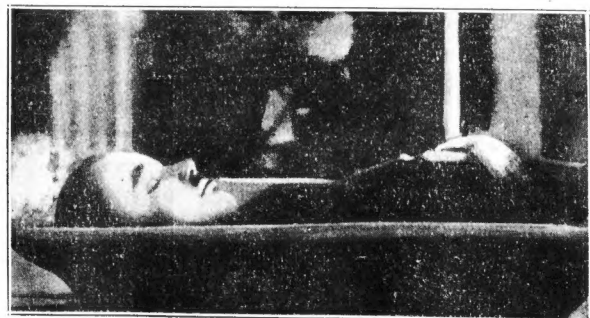

"So what!" With an arm raised in a gesture of abandon, Il Duce is telling the world what he thinks. He has told the world his intentions in the Austrian crisis. (Pictures from International News Photograph Service.)

CHANCELLOR STARHENBERG, MAJOR EMIL FEY, whom 7,000,000 were killed before the Armistice was signed. Horrors of the war may be renewed if Germany interferes in Austria. England, Italy, and France swear to uphold Austrian independence. Anarchy throughout Austria seems to be Starhemberg's biggest worry at the moment. (Picture from International News Photograph Service.)

An interesting illustration of artillery movement in the high Alps of the Tyrol, along the Austro-Italian front. Moving a piece of artillery to a new emplacement in this zone is a major military operation. This may soon be a reality. Italy seems to be determined that no outside forces interfere in Austria's home difficulties.

Radioed from Vienna, this picture shows Chancellor Dollfuss lying in state in the Chancellery, with steel-helmeted honor guard and candles burning at the bier. Slayers allowed him to die slowly, without benefit of clergy.

Italy's Baby Tanks Await Call Into Action

Small these little fighting machines of the Mussolini men may be, but they are formidable and are capable of causing considerable grief in the opposing ranks. These baby tankmen (mounted on right), carry one man each and a machine gun and, because of their size, are exceedingly mobile. If verbal warning to "Keep Hands Off Austria" fail, these tanks can speak with more authority. (Picture from International News Photograph Service.)

MUSSOLINI SET TO TAKE HAND

By Universal Service
Rome, July 27—Premier Mussolini, in a communication to Prince Pauline von Schwarzenberg, Austria's new chancellor, pledged to protect the independence of Austria, and simultaneously strengthened Italian troops along the Austrian frontier.

While the Italian government commiserated with Britain and France regarding the Austrian crisis, marked by the Nazi assassination of Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss, Mussolini dispatched two army corps toward the border from Bologna and Udine.

In his dispatch to Prince von Schwarzenberg, Mussolini made it plain he was prepared to take drastic measures to prevent German encroachments on Austrian integrity. If Duce stated:

"The tragic end of Chancellor Dollfuss deeply grieves me. I was bound to him by personal friendship and common political views. I always admitted his virtues as a statesman, his honest simplicity and his great courage. The independence of Austria, for which he has fallen, is a principle which has been upheld and will be upheld by Italy, even more strenuously in times of extreme difficulty. Chancellor Dollfuss served the people from which he came with absolute disinterestedness, braving all dangers. His memory will be honored not only in Austria but everywhere in the civilized world which already has given a sentence of condemnation against those who were directly and from afar responsible for the crime."

Mussolini arrived in Rome from Florence, where he had been scheduled to confer with the aim Dollfuss. He went immediately to the Palazzo Venezia and conferred with officials of the war, air and foreign affairs ministries. Then he called on Count Ciano, head of the press bureau.

The government issued an official communique concerning the movements of Italian troops. The statement said:

"Since the first news of the murder of Chancellor Dollfuss, and in view of eventual complications, movement of ground and air forces was ordered towards the Austrian border at Brennero Pass, Carinthia. Such forces are quite adequate to cope with whatever situation arises. In view of the fact that the Austrian situation appears to be returning to normal, there is no need to go further than these precautionary measures."

AUSTRIAN PLOT HATCHED LONG AGO IN ROME

By SEYMOUR BERKSON
Copyright, 1934, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.
Paris, July 27—The political plot behind the spectacular attempted coup in Austria, which resulted in the death of Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss, was hatched in Rome months ago with the aim of establishing Anton Rintelen, Austrian Minister to Italy, as Austrian dictator.

Rintelen resigned as minister of education in Vienna nearly a year ago and took the post of Minister to Rome mainly in order to be close to Premier Mussolini, who was friendly toward him, and whom Rintelen repeatedly approached for support.

If Duce decided to maintain a hands-off policy, at least as long as Chancellor Dollfuss appeared able to maintain himself in power.

Numerous meetings were held in Rome and plans were formulated last March for placing Rintelen at the head of the Austrian government "as soon as the right moment came." The inner circle of Rintelen's supporters participated in these meetings.

Rintelen not only sought the support of Mussolini, but sought the backing also of high officials in Paris, where he made several visits recently.

HITLER'S PLANS SHASTED BY DILLFUS MURDER

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER
Specialist, First International News Service
Vienna, July 27.—Hitler has given up Austria. He may claim it again tomorrow, but today he has given it up. This is the primary international consequence of the death of Chancellor Dillfuss, and it means a better chance for the peace of Europe.

For Hitler has washed his hands of the Austrian Nazis. He washed his hands of them because they were stained with the blood of Dillfuss.

Twenty-four hours after Dillfuss had been shot in the hands of his Nazi captors, Theodore Habicht, Hitler's Austrian lieutenant, with the title of Inspector General of the Austrian Nazis, was deposited at their orders. This was the official announcement of the Munich radio station.

GERMANS UNDER BAN

At that same time Berlin officially announced that for an indefinite period no German would be allowed in Austria. This means in effect that the chance that Austrian Legionnaires in Germany might help make the Nazis against the Austrian government is at least for the time being excluded.

All this, coupled with recent disclaimers from Berlin of any responsibility for the callous killing of Dillfuss, plus the German disavowal of the Vienna Minister, Von Reith, plus their ostentatious show of mourning flags for Dillfuss, means that Germany is most anxious to dodge the responsibility which the whole world has laid at her door.

And this sudden turn-about-face of Germany means that for the time being Austria is safe from the German threat. Despite the radio flares of Nazi resistance in Austria and a few other Austrian provinces, the country as a whole is safely under the control of the Vienna Government, and without further supplies of money and explosives from Germany German Nazis are paralyzed.

LOST ONLY FRIEND

But the loss of Austria, if not for the time being, is not the greatest loss Germany has suffered. From the murder of Dillfuss, Hitler and Germany have also lost the only man who only person in the political life of Austria whom they could have trusted and loved.

Hitler has lost Mussolini. That is the most serious blow to German foreign policy. Because Hitler in Germany knew that if it was known she was to have at least one ally, she counted on Italy, not on Germany. But Italy was the only ally Hitler and Germany could have. Mussolini never really liked Hitler. He met him for the first time five weeks ago in Vienna. There Hitler made a good impression on Mussolini. Then Hitler saw Mussolini's promise to side with him.

Witness Tells How Nazis Are Mowed by Guns

Officials said many Nazis, all armed, had escaped into the mountains when the Heimwehr finally won the fight for the city, and that they probably will attempt to return in force. Complete figures of the dead and wounded in the savage fighting are unavailable.

WOMAN, CHILD SLAIN

One child and one woman were among the dead tonight. An army officer said eight mothers were slain and a Heimwehr (Home Guard) chief gave the same number lost among his men. The Nazi dead is uncounted.

"Soldiers went down like pigs," an officer said.

One group fell into an ambush at 11 a. m. yesterday when crossing a bridge into the city's border. The Nazis, however, shot at least not to kill.

All hospitals here and in neighboring villages are jammed. Many bullet marks can be seen on buildings. Terror was written on the faces of townspeople.

Nazis were in control of Leoben Thursday morning. When the army and Heimwehr advanced some of the Nazis remained and others took positions on four wooded hills which dominate the city.

CANNON ARE USED

Artillery fire was directed against one of those hills behind a stone quarry.

The length of the battle, as active as the siege of Vienna during the February civil war, was due to the fact German forces, while in it's majority, had to fight Nazis who were the army and attack the four hills as well.

One group of Nazis fired from a church tower which was not hit by government bullets.

Other Nazis fired from homes in which they took cover.

MANY MORE KILLED

A heavy loss of life occurred when Heimwehr were repulsed in an attempt to storm a hill overlooking the Goewer brewery, the largest in Austria.

Two other hills on which there was fighting a retreat. Thousands of these iron mountain forces, one of the chief reasons for Germany's desire for an Austrian ally.

The general staff of the Nazis made headquarters in a building which was damaged heavily by the firing. Nervous of the situation, were shattered by the 12-hour battle that few slept last night.

"We live, that's all," one citizen summed up the situation.

Nazis on Run, Shed Coats and Guns

Grav. Austria, July 27 (AP)—The Nazis outside entering Ra-

Riches Don't Worry Gloria

While 10-year-old Gloria Vanderbilt, above, exhibited her pony at the fashionable Cedar Valley Horse Show, a legal war was declared among her relatives over the control of the young heiress' $1,000,000 fortune. Her mother, Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt, filed a court petition to be appointed as guardian of her millions. Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, an aunt, and Gloria's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Laura Kilpatrick Morgan, filed petitions of intervention.

By this Mussolini obviously pulls the finger of indictment at Hitler, who as the father of national Socialism, must have been considered responsible for the crime of the Nazis from power in Austria.

And with this Mussolini has killed Hitler.

All this, in the last analysis means that Germany, already badly shaken by the bloody suppression of Hitler's revolt on June 30, and after that revolt, is today frozen out of the European family.

More than that, it means that the national Socialism, which has lost its foundation in its moral appeal to the Germans of Europe, both in and outside of Germany, that it is no longer the menace it was a few months ago. The blood of Dillfuss has watered the seeds of peace.

"An Austrian who gave the Associated Press an eye-witness account, entered the town before the Heimwehr men (home guards) had already entered in the afternoon suddenly lost their nerve."

"As they ran over the broad stone bridge leading into Yugoslavia many dropped rifles and machine guns into the river. Some of them tore off their Nazi storm troop uniforms."

"The father of one Nazi who escaped into Yugoslavia was a member of the Heimwehr forces. That is the tragedy of the whole situation in Austria. Civil war means father against son, brother against brother."

"The Raabersburg affair is particularly tragic in any Austrian, as Yugoslavs across the river could watch us fighting among ourselves. After the world war they captured Raabersburg and civilians helped the Austrian army drive them out."

"Then comes the Yugoslav saw an Austrian army take the town from its inhabitants."

For 13 years First National Stores have cooperated with local New England farmers to give New England people the purest and freshest milk they could buy. The high quality of Brookside Milk has helped to raise the standard of milk quality in New England to its present high level. Brookside still leads in freshness, in purity and in nutritive value. Many doctors prescribe it for children. Try a quart, today.

Europe Can't Afford War!

Washington, July 27.—Economic difficulties will frustrate any plan for a new world war, according to Senator David I. Walsh, said Senator Walsh today.

"I do not believe a war will be started in Europe at this time. The governments of Europe have not the funds to engage in a war and the statements of these countries have big economic problems to handle in bringing their peoples out of the depression."

ERA Marionettes Staged on Strand

The second performance of the ERA Civic Dramatics, a production of the municipal ERA drama project, will be given tonight at 7:30 at the Strandway South Boston.

The pantomime will be given from a miniature stage on the park department's traveling theater truck. Almon E. Fuller is in charge of the group.

GOOD TASTE IS NOT EXPENSIVE AT FERDINAND'S

STOCK MARKET CRASH BEFORE WAR, THINKS DR. HOLCOMBE

By ERNEST KIRSCHEN

War clouds over Europe. Maybe, but if Arthur N. Holcombe, professor of government at Harvard, and one of the world's foremost authorities on things political, knows his international relations, there will be no fighting. And for the simple reason that no European nation can afford it just now.

In an exclusive interview with the Boston Evening American reporter, Dr. Holcombe today missed the possibilities of armed conflict.

Germany, the obvious leader on one side, is in no position at all to wage even a minor war.

GERMANY'S FOES READY

"Her potential opponents, on the other hand, are ready to crush her—even if it will bankrupt them."

As for the drop of the stock market, Dr. Holcombe said:

"Poland would not support Germany. The Reich would stand alone. If it went to war today, despite talk of a Polish alliance."

And France would rather see Austria under Italy's thumb than Germany's. Austria, he said, is under a thumb. So Hitler can find no help in Rome.

"France, of course, would vigorously oppose any move that Germany might make to extend her sphere of influence over the former Hapsburg empire as she has for years."

As for American participation, we learned our lesson the last time. We will not become involved.

U. S. HOPE OF WORLD

And it is in American neutrality, in fact, in a vigorous demand for peace on the part of the United States, that Dr. Holcombe sees the hope of the world should European events lead to an impasse. He said:

"There have been too long wars in Europe, with the nations in their present financial condition, without American support—American supplies and American loans. And we still remember the war debts."

Turning to the internal affairs of Austria and Germany, he said:

"Prinze Otto can not grasp the reins of government in Austria now. He and his Royal Highness are not big enough to do it or strong enough to hold on if he did. But as a puppet of France or Italy—a sort of western Pilsener—he might be ideal. He might bring stability."

"The Austrian Nazis are pro German fascists. Dullfus was a pro-Italian fascist. He had undoubtedly made some sort of a deal with Mussolini for Italian support."

"Hitler has lost greatly in prestige because of his blood purge. Although many of his victims were radicals and leaders in violence themselves, he also murdered those who were his enemies."

Like Gen. Kurt von Schleicher, and this has alienated valuable foreign support."

FOUR-ROOM MARKET CRASH
The crash of falling prices on the bourses and the exchanges of the world, rather than the roar of artillery, barbed wire, and the aftermath of the present Austrian "insurrection," said Dr. Holcombe, turning from European affairs to today's stock market.

"I predicted a break in prices yesterday morning. We got it in the afternoon."

"In this country, particularly, these stocks that are also listed on foreign markets may be expected to fall off sharply in value. This, of course, would force the entire list down, at least temporarily."

More Showers Due Today; Seven Dead in N. E. Storm

Thunderstorms that promised relief to drought-stricken New England, but only brought seven deaths in their wake, were due to repeat today.

Two were killed by lightning in Gloucester, and four other persons perished by drowning in Maine and Massachusetts.

The seventh victim was John E. Cotter, 72, of Boston street, Back Bay, who was found unconscious in his home, and died just before he reached the City Hospital. Head caused his death.

SHOWERS DUE

Today the weather bureau forecast more thunderstorms and, at the same time, reported a 73-degree mercury reading in the post dawn hours.

From Boston, south and west moderate fog blanketed the skies, and several cities reported sharp drops in the temperature. Heavy rainfall was scheduled from various New York and Pennsylvania cities.

The pair killed by lightning in Gloucester were Joseph Chittini, 45, of Fort square, and Jack Fattomino, 15, of Gould street, both Gloucester.

They were standing under a shed on a Commercial street wharf when a bolt struck the building. The man and boy were killed instantly and four others were seriously hurt. The latter were:

Samuel DeKato of Fort square; Stephen Copone of Main street; Stephen Malone of Middle street, and Benjamin Parfitt of Commercial street, all Gloucester. They will recover.

YOUTH DROWNED

In Crystal Lake, Me. Donald Parker, 18, of North Gray, went swimming and drowned. So did four-year-old Robert Boate of South Portland. In Waterville, Reginald Dornwood, 15, perished in 11 feet of water near Forest Grove. Walter Ewing, Jr., eight, of Bloomington street, Chelsea, tumbled under an iron gate at the reservoir near Powderhorn Hill, Chelsea, and fell into the water. He couldn't swim.

Rain Breaks Heat; Fails to Aid Drought

By Associated Press
Searching heat has been routed after killing 1368 persons. Cool breezes swept rains into most sections yesterday and today, but while they brought a sharp drop in heat fatalities, they afforded no material aid to the drought ravaged farm areas.

Temperature broke 85 degrees in some sections, but in the Pacific Southwest, where a new heat wave started, thermometers rocketed to 110 degrees. Readings were high, too, along most sections of the Atlantic coast.

The heat wave took its greatest toll in Missouri where 375 perished. Illinois and Ohio were next with 262 and 161, respectively.

TWO DROUGHT PLANS

Out of the dust and misery of the nation's worst drought, two developments arose today.

There is a possibility that the Bankhead act, involving compulsory reduction of the cotton crop, may be scrapped. The drought has been extending its killing rivers into the south, notably Texas and Oklahoma. This led officials to wonder whether the crop would not be reduced lower than the 16,000,000 hales permitted under the Bankhead act.

An enormous expansion of the government's cotton buying program is planned. Secretary Wallace declared today that he expects to buy at least 4,000,000 bales and possibly 7,000,000. The government has already bought 1,500,000 to save them from death by thirst and starvation.

Wallace predicted the AAA's general effort to aid the farmer, or some similar plan, "will continue regardless of any change in administration—or there will be disaster again."

"Drought was the way he described the saying that 'the Lord is punishing farmers for reducing acreage.'"

The weather bureau said that from the Rocky mountains to Appalachians more civers have shrunk to abnormally low levels this month than in any other July since records began in 1859.

FAMILIES MOVE

Efforts to persuade families in hardest hit sections to sell their land and move to better soil were said to be having some success.

Seven Lose Lives in Texas Tidal Wave

By Associated Press
Houston, Tex., July 25.—Relief workers, counting seven known dead, hunted missing persons today along a 100-mile stretch of the Texas Gulf coast battered by a hurricane and tidal waves.

Workers surveyed ruined crops, wind blown and water damaged buildings and estimated the damage would run into several millions of dollars. The loss of life was not expected to be as heavy as first believed.

A dozen persons were rescued from water bound spots. Adelphi DeCocha, a farmer, and six Negro hired hands, believed to have drowned in the Sargent area, were found alive atop an improvised sandstone.

Stocks fell $1 to $10. Some officials felt that apprehensions about the European situation touched off a reaction for which other factors also were responsible. Among these were cited the fact that the weekend marginal accounts and the need for business.

Some members of the Securities and Exchange Commission, said the present to proceed against false spreading rumors, which the Stock Exchange could do so, and that New York State law makes such maneuvering a felony, punishable by three years in prison and a $5000 fine.

PECORA SCORES STOCK RUMORS

By Associated Press
Washington, July 25.—Officials doubted today that a Bear raid caused stocks to break yesterday, but they would like to know the source of the false rumors just the same.

Ferdinand Pecora, assistant rumormonger as "unethical and highly suspicious," said he expected the New York Exchange would try to find the source of the rumors. They were reported to have said the Italian troops were marching into Austria.

MORE TROOPS MOVE ON MINNEAPOLIS

By the Associated Press
Martial rule—the first ever declared in Minnesota—prevailed over the strike of Minneapolis truck drivers today as federal mediators drew up a new statement on settlement terms.

National Guardsmen were placed in control of the city after a peace plan ultimatum, presented to them by the mediators, was accepted without reservation by the drivers, but was rejected in part by the employers.

PEACE PLAN REJECTED

With business at a standstill, striking longshoremen, Chicago union stockyards turned down a "compromise proposal" of the employers. New negotiations were expected today in an attempt to effect a settlement.

On the Pacific Coast, settlement was announced in the case of the strike, last vestige of the San Francisco general strike, and the mediation board considered a plan to return 12,000 striking longshoremen to the docks by Monday.

DO HURT IN FIGHT

The Federal Labor Relations Board decided to attempt to settle the Hopewell (Va.) rayon strike by mediation in an effort to bring 2,000 workers of the Textile-Union Co. to work.

A skirmish between strikers and sheriffs resulted late yesterday when an unsuccessful attempt was made to remove strikers from the E. E. Rousey cigar factory at St. Paul. Fifty persons were reported injured.

By Associated Press

Minneapolis, July 27.—Concentration of National Guard troops in downtown Minneapolis because of the truck drivers strike, was increased by the moving in of an especially trained "shock" troop yesterday.

Quintessence provided the city as the third battalion of the 1st Infantry entered the downtown district with a heavy complement of arms, including gas, anti-aircraft machine guns, and automatic rifles. The men, most of them veterans with war experience, were specially trained in dispersing crowds.

BAVOINETS FIRED

Military rule of the city, decreed yesterday by Gov. Fernal H. Olson, this morning brought watchmen to every corner of the heart of the downtown district. They acted on instructions to prevent parking within a 25 block area, except to discharge passengers, and to forbid gathering of crowds. They were also ordered to carry rifles with fixed bayonets.

The total strength of the guard within the city is approximately 1,200. Some 200 more men still remained at the Fair Grounds, just outside the city limits, ready for call. Whether this reserve force would be demobilized and sent home, depended on developments in the next few days.

NEW PEACE PLAN

Armed guardsmen patrolled the downtown district as federal mediators, the Rev. Francis Haas and E. H. Dominick, prepared a new peace plan they expected to complete today and the employers' advisory committee would publicly blame Communists for the strike. All efforts to settle the controversy so far have failed.

Delivery of bread, milk, ice, beer, gasoline were unhampered by guardsmen. This did not include delivery of fire, gas and parts, for which permits were required.

A few hours before the troops got under way, both sides failed to agree on peace terms promulgated by the Federal mediators. After the military took control, the employers' advisory committee issued a public statement concerning Communism.

UNION ACCEPTS

Members of Union No. 275, who went on strike July 16 at midnight yesterday voted to accept the peace plan of the mediators. The employers' advisory committee, however, made certain reservations on some points and rejected the peace plan proposal stipulating 42 cents an hour for inside workers, plasticine makers and helpers, and 52 cents an hour for drivers.

Cattle Strikers

Reject Proposal

By International News Service
Chicago, July 27.—Efforts to settle the paralyzing strike of 800 handlers at the Stock Yards today suffered a setback with rejection by the strikers of a compromise proposal tendered by the Union Stock Yards and Transit Company. Activities at the yards remained at a standstill.

Burlington, Vt., July 27.—The Queen City Cotton Company, closed even weeks because of labor trouble, opened its doors today. The opening was in response to numerous requests from a large number of employees.

Girl Is Rescued at Magazine Beach

When Irene Ritchie, 17, of Roxbury, dived off the raft at Magazine Beach, Cambridge, the sharp-eyed lifeguard, Thomas Sullivan, noted that she failed to reappear at the surface. Plunging into the water the lifeguard swam under the raft and there found the girl trapped. Sullivan took her ashore, gave her first aid treatment and sent her to the hospital. This photo was snapped today in her home at a Prentiss street, where she is recovering. (Picture by Boston Evening American Staff Photographer.)

No matter! Here's a delightful way to restore your flow of energy...as now revealed by Science

After swimming...after a hard day's work...any time when you need new vim and energy—light a Camel. And as you enjoy its cool, rich flavor your flow of natural energy will be restored.

This "energizing effect" in Camels, a discovery confirmed by a famous research laboratory in New York, occurs in a harmless and utterly delightful manner. As your latent energy is made available, your fatigue and irritability become a thing of the past!

And so we say, whenever you need new energy, "get a lift with a Camel!" You can smoke Camels all you wish without concern over jangled nerves. For the finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS in Camels never get on your nerves.

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand

Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to have the opportunity to discuss the importance of the National Endowment for the Arts and the National Endowment for the Humanities. These two organizations are the primary federal agencies responsible for promoting and supporting the arts and humanities in the United States. They have played a vital role in fostering creativity, innovation, and cultural understanding among the American people. I believe that it is essential for us to continue to support these organizations and their efforts to enrich our lives and our society.

SURPRISED BY POLICE

It was late in the evening of Tuesday, Aug. 2, 1934, when the police arrived at the home of Mrs. M. J. Brown, 1015 E. 12th St., to arrest her son, James Earl Ray, 21, for the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

When he arrived in Miami to see his mother, Ray was surprised to find he had been arrested. He explained it thus:

"Police had been told that I was dangerous, probably making a lot of money. They had been informed that I would probably shoot my daughter."

"This was just a trick. It was a conspiracy to keep me from

"I am sure that my daughter will not be contented. I told her to wait for me if she needed help. I said I would be at her side within 12 hours of her call."

For his trip southward, Brown was accompanied by Attorney Albert R. McKenna of Boston.

During the discharge of conversation between the officers at the hotel and the bride person, he stated that she would stand by the bridegroom.

PLANNING MUST BE WISE TO BE EFFICIENT

Individualism as System Calls for Thought

Professor of Economics, New York University

New York 52 One of the facts that we need to learn these days is that there is a system of planning that is quite different from that which we have in this country. The idea of a central planning agency is superficial at best because the laborer, the central agency is set up and it is advertised that this agency is to make plans. It is planning.

But "planning" is of no benefit unless it is to be planned. We want planning for the sake of it, we want plan to be written.

But, if we could not make any plan, we could not make any plan, if we could not make any plan, we could not make any plan. In my judg-

After the advent of individualism we would have some 30,000,000

[illegible]

Note that I say, 'the average man.' Some are incapacitated or unfortunate. They must be pro-aided for by society. And some are disoriented. They must be restrained. It is possible, in imagination, to conceive of a group of "the best minds selected for planning. But where are these minds? Under our political system, what chance is there that they will be secured, or operating properly if found?"

Think of the infinite differences among our farms, businesses, farms of the constant changes. So what is the finite mind that can plan ever thing for everybody?

NEW ENGLAND'S GREATEST EVENING NEWSPAPER

BY AUSTEN LAKE

Nov. 14. Let go to start a wrestling section in the lab, something on the order of the outline French fencing atelier where the master led to style forcibly among his pupils and teach the art of response and the four quarters.

A well-stocked school forsooth in which took all these ambitious boys with barrel backs and gave them at modest tuition to earn their way in the grappling game

He also has won Din George, and is in a better a seat for the Bowser of 1911. The Bowser was, of them ex- have come to him within the last year de- the muscle yanking industry, which they bear

THE SCARCITY OF LEGITIMATE FOOTBALL MAY HAVE BEEN WIDELY felt by former college men has driven recent graduates back to athletics for a livelihood. And Dennis Shea, the lively dean and publicity drum banger for the Boston Redskins team, tells me that pro football can have the pick of thousands of the last crop of college stars for little more than bed, breakfast and spending money.

In the fall, then, Albright is going to accept applications from a limited number of mat students, requiring a cash forfeit for earnest intentions, and recruiting a faculty from Bowser's chapter of human pretzels.

Wrestling the Answer to the Promoter's Dream

WRESTLING IS AN AMAZING industry, as well as one of the closest knit corporations in the land. Woe to the double crosser. For he will be expelled into outer darkness and made to wander the wrestling wastelands, regarded as a pariah among his fellows and forced to work the whistle stop villages for cigarette money, if indeed he works at all.

'Strangler' Lewis, after bouncing the sawdust filing out of Ed George three years ago in a two time bout on the coast, was made to walk the rail ties, scorned by right thinking folk, until he crept back to Bowser on his knobby knees and muttered a prodigal's plea, so that Paul, like a benevolent dastard, restored him to good standing, abashed, contrite and disciplined. And maybe you think I'm kidding

CONSIDER THE CONTRAST in problems between the boxing and wrestling businesses. The taproots of boxing are laid in the cobblestone streets and alleys, where lads learn the rough handcraft of belting each other with bare fists. And they must learn early, because the life of a fighter is brief at best, and the art is long and hard.

But in wrestling you snatch a likely-looking youth with maxjels like derb hats and teach him the craft in a few brief lessons, like Gus Sonnenberg or Leo Numa, or Len Macaluso, or half a hundred others, and then expose him in a graduating scale of seasoning against old stagers. And the illusion is both beautiful and instantaneous. Not only that, but you can keep going until you are in the middle 40s, like Jimmy London.

THEN, AS ANOTHER SPORT curiosity, take life of the baseball umpire, as Bill Klem's for example. Bill, who has been working the Braves Reds series, is one of the few remaining holdovers from the days when baseball was a fugal game and umpires were always in open shooting season.

Bill tells me he he used to use the servants' entrance and often escaped by the freight elevators. He traveled incognito in separate trains from the ball players and led a lonely life in bad bedrooms, shunning companionship and existing as a hermit.

"But now," said Sir William, who is closer to 50, one side or the other, than he will admit, and is still the martinet of the diamond, "we live at the best hotels, are socially correct and respected members of the profession. It's the ideal life."

Dick Williams Pats Himself on the Back

Dick knows, only too well, the flood of blame and criticism that always descends on the head of a Davis Cup tennis leader after being beaten, particularly after he called Alhson to England and then shoed him home again. Nothing succeeds like success in sport, where the experts are always willing to climb on the winner's band wagon and swing their heels against the loser's chin. The line of separation between bunhood and heroism is only a thin whisker.

WHEN THE REPORT was current that Jack Dempsey was going to replace Jimmy Johnston, the "boy bandit," as matchmaker at the New York Garden, Jimmy said, stubbornly: "I won't quit; they'll have to throw me out." If fired he proposed to take legal action.

So, today, Bob O'Farrell, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, who is momentarily expected to be shot down the drain, says the same thing. Because Bob has a two-year contract, all of which he could collect if discharged.

I have always suspected that this continual switching of base ball managers was something of a farce, on the theory that if a man, like Bucky Harris, was a good manager when he won two pennants in his first two years as manager at Washington, he was no less of a manager when he was fired by that club and later by Detroit.

Bob Quinn once told me: "If I had the right kind of players I wouldn't care who managed the team. I'd even let you do it."

Even at this late stage, years after, I am still wondering whether that was a compliment or a slur.

With victory in the "Navy" match, the team will have a record of 1-0. The team will be in a good position to win the championship.
